Gur toigh leinn a Ghaelic
Ged is diombach tha Cach oirr,
Gur fearr leinn ri 'Gradh f
Na Canain nan Gall.

A dhaoin' naise na Gaidhealtachd, agus a luchd duthcha, tha aobhar mor againn a bhi na 'r Comain, airson a chuidichidh a thug sibh dhuinn, o' na dh' fhosgail sinn buth CHLACHNACUDAIN, ann am PRÌOMH BHAILE na GAIDHEALTACHD—INBHIRNIS. Bha meas mor aig na Gaidheil riamh air a Muinntir fhein nam b'fhiach iad e, 'sna biodh iad toillteannach air meas; agus bu bheag orra Coigrich gun diu. Tha Coigrich Ghlaschu coma ma gheibh iad na cuid Airgiod, gu thoir às an duthaich, ged a rachadh na bathadh, ach ma ni sibh Ceannach 'na 'ur duthaich fhein, bith' sibh' a cumail an airgiod aig a bhaile, a dol ma 'n cuairt nu'r measg fhein, agus a cur toradh dheth na'r tir fhein. Ceannichibh a reis bho-chlann Mhic Choinnich Chlachnacudain, far am faigh sibh an Stugh as fearr, air a dheagh dheanamh, aig pris reusantach, gheibh sibh Aodach Sassunnach, Aodach Gallda, na Cló Gaidhealach, ann's 'an eaidh, na air a Thailleireachd gu grinn, agus ann's an fhasan as uire. Cha'neil ni a dh fheumas Pearsa an duine nach fhaighear, aig

A HISTORY OF THE SCOTTISH HIGHLANDS, Highland Clans, and Highland Regiments ;

With an Account of the Gaelic Language and Literature, written for the Work, by the Rev. THOMAS M'LAUCHLAN, LL.D., F.S.A.S., and an Essay on Highland Scenery, by the late Professor JOHN WILSON. Edited by JOHN S. KELTIE, F.S.A.S. The present Work is divided into Three Sections :—

- I. THE GENERAL HISTORY OF THE HIGHLANDS, including RELIGION, LITERATURE, and ANTIQUITIES.
- II. THE HISTORY OF THE HIGHLAND CLANS.
- III. THE HISTORY OF THE HIGHLAND REGIMENTS, to the Present Time.

Richly illustrated with many special views, original Portraits, Autographs, Seals, Armorial Bearings, and objects of Antiquarian Interest on Steel and Wood ; and embellished with Thirty Specimens of Authentic Clan Tartan, beautifully executed in colour ; and a New Map of Clan Territories.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We cannot entertain a doubt of its being most favourably received by the Public"—Edinburgh Courant.

"The Paper, the Type, and the general get-up of the work, do great credit to the Publishers."—North British Daily Mail.

"The excellence of the text is admirably supported by the brilliancy and beauty of the Illustrations, which include several remarkable Portraits hitherto unpublished, and a series of coloured examples of the various Clan Tartans absolutely perfect in their way."—Glasgow Evening Citizen.

"The Publishers seem to us to have left nothing undone, either in the way of letterpress or illustrations, to make their 'History' as attractive and complete as possible."—Inverness Courier.

"We know of no work more calculated to interest any true Scotsman, whether living amongst his native heath or in some distant clime : nor do we know of any work better fitted to commemorate all that is patriotic or ennobling in our country's story."—Fife Herald.

"The work evinces extensive knowledge of Celtic lore, is written with high literary ability, and is impartial and truthful in its representations. We would thus bring this important and valuable work before the notice of the Scotsmen of Canada in terms of the strongest commendation."—Canada Scotsman.

CAPITAL £3,000, IN 3000 SHARES OF £1 EACH .

SECRETARY, Pro tem., JOHN MURDOCH,

To whom application for Shares and orders for the Paper are to be sent.

OFFICES, 13 HIGH STREET, INVERNESS.

The objects of “ THE HIGHLANDER ” are :—

To foster enterprise and public opinion in the Highlands and Islands of Scotland ;

To advocate, independently of party considerations, those political, social, and economic measures which appear best calculated to advance the well-being of the people at large ; and,

To provide Highlanders at home and abroad, with a record and review of events, in which due prominence shall be given to Highland affairs.

“ THE HIGHLANDER ” will give the earliest and most authentic intelligence on all subjects.

The nation now begins to see that the policy of depopulating the country and throwing the land out of cultivation, was an economic blunder of the gravest sort, carried out in cruel disregard of the feelings and instincts of the people. “ The Highlander ” will endeavour to give effect to the wiser and more generous views now taking possession of the public mind.

Among the topics which shall have prominence, are—the Land Question ; Game Preservation and Deer Forestry ; the best systems of Rural Economy and Practical Husbandry ; the establishing of Manufactures in the Highlands ; the Fisheries ; the working of Mines, Quarries, and Peat Mosses ; the Utilisation of Sewage ; Railway Extension and Management ; Local and Imperial Taxation ; Celtic and kindred Literature ; Sanitary and Dietetic Matters, &c.

Gaelic is still spoken, perhaps, over one-half the area of Scotland, and by considerable numbers in our large towns and colonies ; whilst the learned of all lands look to the Gaelic language for valuable materials with which to perfect Philology, Archæology, and other branches in Science and Philosophy. The views of both the learned and the unlearned shall be met, and the columns of “ The Highlander ” made, so far, racy of the soil, by some space being devoted to Gaelic articles, tales, poetry, and music, both ancient and modern.

Pictorial Illustrations will be given occasionally.

Inverness, which rejoices in such a rare surrounding of what is useful and beautiful, should be a large, wealthy, and influential town. A wisely directed public spirit will turn its advantages to account. “ The Highlander ” offers assistance, and appeals for co-operation, to work out greatness for the Capital and prosperity for the whole Highlands, from the many rich materials which they possess ; and this appeal is made, confident of a hearty response.

The Size of the Paper will be 12 Pages.

Time of Publication, every Saturday, until arrangements are made for a more frequent issue.

Price, 2d per copy, until the circulation warrants a reduction.
